

I am in support of the ARRL request that a new class of operators is created with the name Novice and that "Novices" from previous years are grandfathered into the new class. This is a vital step to further our use and growth of the community.

Thank you for your continued support of Amateur Radio